Borrows Money Board met Tuesday night of this students.

After giving an OK to the minutes of the last meeting the board heard a request from Kenneth Deal. Deal wanted reimbursement for some dam-age to electrical appliances in his trailer. The board agreed to have an electrical engineer view the situation and if in the opinion of the expert, it was due to the Board's error, they would pay the claim; but if not the Board's error, they would turn down the claim. The board approved payment of bills totaling $9,052.63 when money is available; discussed need to purchase machinery to itemize electric bills and approved payment of $500 to Douglas Easters for water taps outside the city limits on water line installed by Easters. The Meanest Mother

We had the meanest mother ers, she was much wiser and in the world! While other kids are candy for breakfast, None of this tooting the horn in the world! While other kids ate candy for breakfast, whe had to have cereal, eggs, and toast. When others had cokes and candy for lunch, we had to eat sandwiches. And you can guess, our dinner was different from other kids, too.

Mother insisted on knowing where we were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were, and what who our friends were, and what were 15 and 16.

we were doing. She insisted that if we said we would be gone for an hour, we would be gone one hour or less.

We are ashamed to admit it, but she actually had the nerve to "break" the child lanerve to "break" the child la-bor law. She made us work! — Look at all the things we We had to wash all the dishes, make the beds, learn to cook, and all sorts of cruel things.

I believe she lay awake nights thishing of make nights thishing of make nights.

Fans Mar Elba-ZC Game

The Elba-Zion Chapel basketball game last Thursday night, Zion Chapel, was marred by a "near-brawl" between fans and students of the two schools. To some, the term "near-brawl" might sound too ser However, school officials from Zion Chapel apparently felt the situation was serious, because they telephoned for the County Sheriff and his deputies to come to the school and aid in controlling the crowd.

There was a good crowd on hand for the game, and the varsity contest went along without incident through the opening three quarters. There was the expected fussing between the fans, and occasionally a fan would shout something across court, or make an "infamous" gesture. However, when two rival schools get together, you expect their supporters to rib one another, and no one really took the shouting, or The action on the court began to get a little rough in the fourth quarter, and as the game began to get hotly contested, the tempers of the fans began to rise.

Early in the fourth quarter a trio of Zion Chapel students paraded in front of the Elba stands, and their action seemed to ignite the crowd. The shouting picked up on both ends of the court, and suddenly both stands emptied, and the fans began to head outside for a confrontation. Teachers from Zion Chapel met the crowd in the lobby, preventing the angered fans from going out to the parking lot. After a few tense moments, the fans began to wander back to their seats.

As one Zion Chapel student passed Elba coach, Mance Daughtry, he uttered an obscenity at the coach, and the fans seated near the Elba bench became angered.

The shouting continued throughout the final minutes of the game, but the game ended without further incident. There were several minor skirmishes after the game, but most seemed to involve students from Zion Chapel trying to calm down their fellow students. This year marked the first time that Elba and Zion Chapel have met in varsity competition, and after their first two meetings it appeared the rivalry among the schools would insure the meeting of the two schools on the basketball court for many years to come. I was present when Zion Chapel played Elba, in Elba, earlier in the year, and the conduct of the Elba students was hospitable. However, the home town fans Thursday night seemed to want trouble from the start, and they almost got their wish! I'll admit that the fans from Elba got out of nand, but it's the responsibility of the home town to keep their students under control, and this was not done! I hate to see it when two schools only 10 miles apart can't together for a sports event without the fans getting out of control, and threatening to fight during the game.

If the two schools can't solve their differences, school officials may have no alternative except to discontinue playing each other hate to say it, but I think it might be best for the schools

Tigers looked impressive in defeating Samson 56-34 and Zion Chapel, 74-62, but couldn't handle Red Level, and lost 12-10 at the end of the first Leonard Goosby continued to have a hot hand, and poured in 70 points in the three games. Goosby poured in 20 against Samson, 36 against Zion Chapel, and 14 against Red Level. In the Zion Chapel game, Leonard hit 16 of 18 free throws, half. and 10 of 16 shots from the field.

Benard Coleman also had a good week for the Tigers.

The third quarter saw the Tigers continue to pull away Bo scored 13, 14, and 8 points, and pulled down 21, 13, and 10 and open a 37-20 lead early in rebounds, in Elba's three games.

The Tigers play three games next week, as they end their try took advantage of Elba's regular season. The Tigers finale is next Friday night, against Kinston, in Elba. If you haven't seen Elba play this year, come out and see Elba play Kinston, game time 7:30 p.m. Prep Round-up Kinston only played one game last week, and defeated Wicksburg 77-59, to up their record to 13-8. The Bulldogs were led in their homecoming tilt by Joey Hunko, who scorched the nets for 30 points. Zion Chapel split a pair of games last week, and stand at 10-8 for the season. The Rebels dumped Coffee Springs 79-58, and lost to Elba. The Rebs were paced in their two games by Keith Stephens with 31 points, and Richard Adair, with 25 points. Tim Sanders had the high-scoring game for the week for ZC, a 24-point performance against Elba.

New Brockton's record went to 19-3 last week, with three Hornsby 4, McDonald 9, Brooks pitched in 13, and hauled down impressive wins. The Gamecocks blasted Houston Academy 95-71; Pleasant Home 81-59; and Luverne 63-56. The high-flying Gamecocks were led by Billy Pruitt, with 44 points, the tall Pruitt had plenty of help, as a total of four players hit in double figures in the wins over Houston Academy and Pleasant Home.

The Enterprise Wildcats split a pair last week, to run their record to 16-8. The 'Cats fell to Troy 79-51, but bounced back to clip Straughan 73-51. The 'Cats Clifford Carlton lidn't play against Troy due an illness, but returned to toss Enterprise runs what you might call a "Thanksgiving Day' offense. Clifford Carlton shoots from the outside, and the other 4 turkeys just hang around the goal waiting for a tip-in. Andalusia continued to improve and blasted Dothan (14-5), 72-55, to run their record to 17-3. The Bulldogs appear a shoe-in to make the state play-offs. Straughan and Clio put on offensive shows last week, as both eclipsed the century mark. Straughan blasted Brantley, 114-58, while Clio bombed Ariton,

In Closing

It seems that the home-court advantage is alive and well in I charted 51 high school basketball games last week, and the home team came out on top 39 times, while losing only 12. BOOK - LESS CLASSES

Do you think it would be easy to learn about Europe without a textbook with maps and information guides? How about studying science without the help of diagrams, pictures, and charts? Where would you read the exciting, the humorous, the adventuresome, or the romantic stories and poetry if you didn't have a literature book containing them? Sure. any class could be taught without books, for teachers have the knowledge when you have the knowledge to pass on to you, but how much easier it is for you to understand this knowledge when you have the help of a textbook. Our question is this: Why are we students so this: Why are we students so careless with these tools of learning? Why do many of us learning? # Drug Abuse Is Rising

By Chief M. W. Johnston, Elba Police Dept.

The 4th article in a 13 part series.

MARIJUANA - THE "INNOCENT" DRUG Is marijuana really harmless, as users of the drug and those tired of hearing about it would have us believe? Earnest medical research to date has failed to come up with serious physical harm, resulting from its use. However, there are some strong indications of chromosome damage being possible after continued use, sexual abilities being hampered and unu-

Research, of course, is continuing. Uncovering definite and conclusive evidence of harm to the user's body is important, but in considering the over all picture there are enough side effects resulting from the use of marijuana to impress unfavorably even the mentally retarded.

Contrary to the sales talk given us by users, case histories of hard drug users most usually show that the addict did in fact get his start in drug experimentation by using marijuana. Psychological dependence is strongly indicated. While total effects of marijuana "highs" can last 3-5 hours, large doses can produce hallucinations after about 20 minutes. Time passes slowly to the person under marijuana's influence, and distance slowly to the person under marijuana's influence, and distances seem to be shorter. The memory becomes quite short and concentration becomes difficult.

Behind the wheel of a motor vehicle the marijuana user is a death threat to eveyone in his path, and himself. Red lights may look green to him and traveling at 70 miles an hour may seem like 25 miles per hour. Thousands upon thousands of young people have been involved in fatal automobile accidents as the result of being on the so-called "innocent" drug. Knowing this, and being fully aware that the use of marijuana frequently leads the user to addiction to even more dangerous drugs, how can anyone in his right mind really believe that marijuana is harmless? Any drug taken that can cause a person to drop out of school, forget all previous plans for making a good life for himself, and exercise complete disregard for his own safety and the safety of others, could hardly be termed innocent or harmless!
